"THE NATIVITY SCENE"

Window of Lounge To Frame Nativity

Sariah House will present a Christmas gift to Graceland and the Lamoni Community. This gift will take the form of a live nativity scene to be shown for twenty minutes on next Monday and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 16 and 17.

The scene will be in Tess Morgan lounge, viewed from the outside of Tess Morgan Hall and accompanied by carolers. The curtains will open at 7:00 and will close at 7:20.

Arbuta House - The Biggest AND

POEM BY MRS. EBELING

THE NIGHT BEFORE VACATION

'Twas the night before vacation in Tess Morgan Hall
Though each was excited, sleep's hush hung o'er all.
And I in my muu-muu came out by the tree
To think of the things that this year's meant to me.
It's meant bowling and folk-dance, Biology, Lit.
But I know in my heart that's a small part of it.

It's meant Francine starred in The Righteous are Bold,
Kathy Jones formal shopping when fourteen years old.
Barbara Hudson learns chess, Verna Knapp raises Chemistry,
Shirleen Sheffield holds open house, Laura Schrunk spends time "giggley."
Now have you seem Ellen when she goes to bed?
You'd think she's a devil! Her p.j's., how red!

I think of that morning when Joannie was wakened
With a bucket of water. - and how Marquel was shaken
By a phone call from Jay, oh, she really is taken.
For help with the knitting came Marilee Reitz-
(Even got out of bed in the middle of nights.)

I've mourned with these girls through that week-end just past,
While the campus was hushed and the flag at half-mast.
It's my birthday cake cut in the dorm after hours,
With Chris being sneaky, then bringing me flowers.
It's the calm of devotions while friends kneel in prayer,
It's assurance, through laughter, His spirit is there.

I will like to remember how Myron and Sherri
Strummed the guitar while the gang all made merry.
Bull sessions and debate , Kay leading the lot,
What's life all about? Are we chosen, or not?

It's Doris collecting posters for her wall,
And Hilliard whose heart took the "oh-so-fun" fall.
When semester is done, Judy Manning's done too.
I'm happy she's finished, but what will we do?
Nola Jean talks of Denny, Dianna of Bill.
And Jan (with her hook) coutns the coins form the till.

When Cyndy and Ellen took stars from their door,
They gave them to Carole when she left their floor.
While Skipper knits slippers and Ellie pops corn,
Phyllis and Margie party, with overhalls torn.
How sick Mary Jane was! The lounge full of beds.
Kiamme's kaopectate, Bea's stomach, sick heads.
How everyone helped! The meals that you fixed,
The night watches you kept! The medicines mixed!

I remember the thrill we all felt when the crown
For Homecoming queen went to one of our own.
Ontario raised Carolyn, Australia sent Cecily,
What those countries lost is pure pleasure to me.

MISS TESS MORGAN, A SPECIAL GUEST.

The Sariah walk-out from Tess Morgan included fifty-three couples making this the largest banquet of the year. A revolving mobile of musical notes carried out the dramatic theme of "Crescendo." Dr. William Gould, master of ceremonies, was accompanied by his wife, Charlotte Gould. Following the filet mignon dinner George Ritchie, Mary Frasca, and Jan Faunce entertained.

Sariah Freshmen Frayed By FID

Freshman Initiation Day (FID) for Sariah women began at 5:30 a. m. last Saturday with the sounding of the fire alarm.

The women were rushed out of the dorm through the fire exits, then marched back to the lounge where Social Chairman, Joyce Guest, announced that FID had come at last. After a short hike to Home Pond, the women cooked their breakfast over a campfire, played a few games, then hiked back to their Tess Morgan home.

A formal induction service will be held Sunday at 7:35 a.m., welcoming all freshman women.

"SANTA'S WORK SHOP"

Francine was director of Santa's Work Shop

Tess Morgan hall, girls' dormitory at Graceland college, was the scene Monday and Tuesday nights of a Christmas feature for the second year.

This year's presentation was called "Santa's Work Shop." The cast consisted of 14 girls, but nearly all of the 72 residents of Sariah House, the residence unit, were involved in its production. Directing the scene was Miss Francine Inslee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Inslee of Lamoni.

Due to the cold and wind Monday night, the outside audience was somewhat on the small side, even though enthusiastic. But Tuesday night with warmer weather, the crowd was large when the drapes were drawn.

Popular in the cast was the "Jack in the Box" who won the sympathetic attention of the audience because she had to keep bobbing up and down with only a little rest between the sequences. But every girl in the cast was beautifully costumed and made up.

The watchmen impressed the audience with their ability to keep from blinking, but a camera flash outside revealed that they were real, live girls. All cast members did beautifully, reflecting much behind-the-scenes work in make-up, costumes and rehearsals.

December 15, 1965

Dear ——,

I would personally like to thank you for the time + effort you put in on "The Littlest Angel." I think the whole house was proud of the good job that we did. Most of the time, though it doesn't seem so at first, something like that is worth all the trouble it takes. And it couldn't have been done without every one of you.

Thank you.

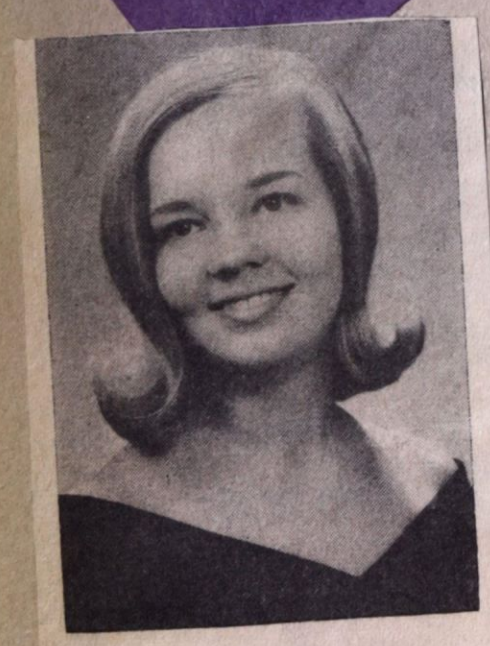
Our Judy!



Miss Barwise

Judy Barwise

Faunce and Sariah's entrant in the competition is the sophomore who was last year's Western Barbeque Queen. Judy Barwise, a Crescent, is an elementary education major with a minor in psychology. She enjoys listening to music (classical and popular), as well as producing it with her voice and her ability on the piano. Her admitted weaknesses are shoes, playing "nurtz" (a card game), travelling, her three-legged Spaniel, Abigail, her two brothers, one older and one younger, watching football, and playing pool.

Sariah House

Sariah House members are planning a "brucheon" for all Sariah alums. The gathering will be an informal buffet of sandwiches and punch from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. The object of the reception, according to house president Johnita Cash, is to afford a place to "gab" while avoiding the Homecoming Common's line.

The specific place will be announced in the Saturday morning assembly, and several posters will be placed in vital areas around campus to inform house members and interested alums.

Christmas '66

OUR SARIAH GIFT

'Twas the night before gift-time
And we were all busily
In Patroness lounge
Readying the scene busily.

There was Ellie in her sleigh,
And Alice (the mother),
And good old Dad (Nov)
And 2 little brothers (sorry Judy and Donna-- no other rhyme).

The reindeer, (Trudy, Pat, Vicki, Mickey,
Shirley, Gail, JoAn, Geri) were panting
All anxious to go
With twigs in the sugarplums,
And the snowman-- without snow.

The props (by Doris, Caryl, and Linda)
Were all assembled with care,
And the scenery (by Ellie, Gail, Pat,
Mickey, Alice, and Johnni)
Even was there.

The costumes were readied
By Caryl and Sherry,
And the carolers were practicing
In the pink room (but where was their quarry?)

And I in my little room
All cozy and merry,
Was wishing the gift-time
Would please, Santa, hurry!

But lo and behold,
The very next night,
Our gift went on schedule
And it all turned out right.

So congrats Nancy and Sariah,
(We knew you could do it!)
Keep up the good work
And we'll never rue it.

Poor Ellie!

Life's a riot!

Who papered Gail, Sherry, and Mickey's room? We'll never know for sure, but Ellie and Pat were thrown in the showers for good measure. Nice work, girls!!?!
